COMFLUENT
where the networks meet

If you need to connect in Colorado, connect at Comfluent.

In a world where the speed of light has become a limiting factor, no one city is closer to every major market in the US than Denver. In the middle of the country, Denver avoids the earthquake or hurricane danger of either coast.

Within Denver, no facility is closer to the center of the network world than Comfluent.

As the only truly carrier-neutral facility located in Denver's major carrier hotel, Comfluent is ideally situated to offer colocation and interconnection to carriers and service providers seeking a presence in Denver. Better yet, we're adjacent to Denver Main, the main Central Office and entry point to the Northern LATA of Colorado. With physical, passive connectivity to nearly every carrier in the building, and the largest number of last-mile and long-haul options in Denver, our customers know they can get their customers lit with the redundancy, flexibility, and cost basis they've come to expect.

We already serve a number of service providers, ranging from global carriers through national VoIP networks to local ISPs. Whether you need to locate a single router, or several cabinets, we can get your presence established.

When carriers merge, or pricing models change, an alternate carrier is just a cross connect away. We can deliver any size connection, from T1 to OC192, from 100MB Ethernet to 10GigE, and we can have the cross connect in place within two days. Plus, we stay in touch with the carrier through the provisioning process to make sure the delivery takes place smoothly and on-time.

See our carrier list, take a tour, and see for yourself why Comfluent is the facility of choice for service providers in Denver.

"The support of the entire Comfluent team was extremely beneficial and superior to what we're accustomed to from other colocation providers. In particular, your real time updates as to problems other carriers were experiencing allowed us to escalate the problems of other companies to ensure timely resolution."
